At the Bison Lodge, well-behaved pets are welcome with a $10 non-refundable fee.

- Animals that pose a health or safety risk may not remain on site, and include those that, in our managers' discretion, are too numerous for any one room; cause damage to our property or that of other guests; are too disruptive; are not properly attended; or that demonstrate undue aggression. We do not allow exotic animals (ferrets, birds, etc.) or dogs larger than 50 pounds.
- Animals that assist the disabled, known as "Service Animals," are always welcome. Like pets, however, any Service Animal that poses a health or safety risk may not remain on site. Our pet fee is waived for Service Animals.
- All pets must be declared at check-in. We must also have contact information at the time of check-in. Pets will be allowed in designated rooms only. This is important, as it provides our staff with information about the guest in each room.
- Due to safety concerns for our employees and your pet, we will not service a room with an unattended pet.
- In consideration of all guests, pets must be attended and under control at all times. No pet should be left alone in a room.
- Pets must be on a leash or securely carried outside of the guest room and under control.
- Please consider other guests when walking your pet by cleaning up after your pet.
- If you do not comply with our pet policy, you may be asked to vacate the property with or without a refund.
